Dear Families:

My first teaching job was at Saint Camillus School in Rockaway Park, New York. I was a sub for the special content classes, teaching art, computer, and even gym. The pastor at the time was Father Richard Ahlemeyer. Years later, when I got married and moved to Queens, Father Richie became my pastor. Last weekend, Father Richie passed away unexpectedly.

Father Richard served as pastor of the parish of Saint Camillus-Saint Virgilius for over 17 years. I will remember his great sense of humor, down-to-earth homilies, and his infectious smile. In fact, he would often greet people in his booming voice—not with a hi or hello—but with a request...to “Smile!”

Being a substitute gym teacher was one of the hardest jobs I ever had, and it was only for two days! (Each gym period was 90 minutes! Yikes!) But, it taught me to appreciate the patience teachers have and the hard work and preparation that go into teaching gym...or any other subject for that matter.

Although death is often a sad time, I’m reminded by Father Richard’s call to “smile.” The end of the school year can be a hectic time. Today is our spring show. Confirmation is on Friday. Final exams are coming up, and step-up ceremonies and graduation activities are right around the corner. While the planning and execution of these events can be stressful, they are all celebratory occasions, all reasons to smile.

One day, before a Saturday evening Mass, Father Richard was talking to someone from the altar. He then pointed to me, and said, “Mark...he’s a princiPAL,” intentionally placing emphasis on the “pal.” This will certainly be a memory of Father Richie I will reflect upon often, helping me to smile, especially during stressful times.

Thanks, pal.

Sincerely,

Mr. Mark Wilson
